

AGS According To:

Tammy Workman, Advertising Manager, Association of Clinical Research Professionals

Well-thought-out designs & floor plans were key to Maximizing our educational format & networking Spaces.

There's no question AGS has the resources to handle the big events. But what impressed me the most was how the team rose to the challenge of managing multiple priorities under tight deadlines. They produced an integrated event that made a lasting impression—before, during and after the show. AGS is the kind of partner who will go the distance for you.

A Treasure Hunt in the exhibit hall was pure genius for customer engagement, attendee participation & sponsorships.

The gray-smoked cityscape header added the perfect touch to the already-impressive main entrance.
