SERVICES

Hello Everyone!

On Behalf of AGS Expo Services & Your Show Management Association,

I recognize that, with the COVID-19 situation around the country, this is an unprecedented time for everyone — a time when many of us are also working hard to open our places of business in the safest manner possible.

What could a trade show & exhibits production company do in the current situation? This is a question I have asked myself and our team of designers and product specialists. The response was clear.

We can leverage our experience in outfitting temporary spaces by providing safety signage and equipment that allows companies to open their doors the healthy and easy way. From Social Distancing Floor Decals to Sanitation Stations, our products are designed and produced with recommendations by the World Health Organization and CDC guidelines, giving you the added peace of mind that you are protecting your customers as well as your employees.

We cherish our partnership with your show management association - as a trusted branding and graphics partner for their events — and we promise to give you the same quality service as you Get Back to Business.

Please be well, and best of luck!
